Mr. O. Altmann,

A token of esteem and friendship.

Charles Ball.

25/2/29.
THE CAMPAIGN IN GALLIPOLI

by

HANS KANNENGEISSER PASHA
PRUSSIAN AND TURKISH MAJOR-GENERAL, RETIRED

With an Introduction by

MARSHAL
LIMAN VON SANDERS PASHA

Translated from the German by

MAJOR C. J. P. BALL, D.S.O., M.C. (Late R.A.)
WHO SERVED WITH THE 15TH BDE. R.H.A. 29TH DIVISION THROUGHOUT THE GALLIPOLI CAMPAIGN

With 28 Illustrations and 3 Maps

HUTCHINSON & CO. (Publishers) LTD.
34–36 Paternoster Row, London, E.C.4
DEDICATED TO ALL MY COMRADES
WHO FOUGHT WITH ME
UNDER THE CRESCENT FLAG
ON GALLIPOLI
INTRODUCTION

ONLY a few Germans know much of the eight months’ heavy fighting on the Gallipoli Peninsula, which, in 1915, decided the possession of the entrance to the Dardanelles and the occupation of Constantinople.

There were only five hundred Germans who, there distributed among a large Turkish army, far from home, under burning heat, short of ammunition and under continuous ships’ fire, held high the honour of the German name against a powerful Anglo-French landing army.

Now that twelve years have passed, one of the bravest among the five hundred German comrades has taken his pen to write, and has depicted in the most vivid manner the story of this bloody campaign, which stands incomparable in the world’s history. Only personal experience and knowledge of incidents hidden from history enable the writer to tell his story in such a clear and simple manner as to find its way immediately to the heart of the German people.

The brilliant work of the English Minister, Winston Churchill, The World Crisis, 1915, is here supplemented from the German side in a manner which deals equally justly with the German activity as with that of our late
INTRODUCTION

Turkish allies and with the brave enemy. It is my hope that this clear, truthful and extremely interesting book of General Kannengiesser will meet with the reception which it deserves.

LIMAN VON SANDERS
Late Imperial Prussian General of Cavalry, Dr. Phil. h.c., formerly Field-Marshal and Commander-in-Chief of the 5th Turkish Army.

MUNICH,
27th January, 1927.
PREFACE

On 20th December, 1925, we Gallipoli veterans celebrated for the first time the day on which, ten years previously, the English had evacuated the Gallipoli Peninsula and thus retired from the fighting for the Dardanelles. It was a joy to all of us to meet again the greater part of the men who formerly, under most curious and difficult circumstances, fought a heavy fight under conditions which certainly up to date could only have been known in their extreme peculiarity to those who had fought with us.

Shall the deeds of those men be forgotten who there, under the Crescent, fought for Germany’s name and honour?

Every regiment prides its war record, with justice. I have to date vainly awaited a history of the Gallipoli campaign, something more than a casual story in the newspapers, which so depicted the terrible difficulties of the heavy fighting in Oriental surroundings as to make them for the first time completely understandable, and which first did real justice to the political importance of those battles. This is the reason why I have now seized a pen and believe myself to be fulfilling a comradely duty, not only to my German comrades but also towards the brave Turkish army. What I have to say about the Turkish army really only affects Turkey as she was in 1914 and 1915, measured by the impressions which I received before and on Gallipoli, and which I shall endeavour to relate and substantiate. I limit myself, therefore, to depicting the conditions and circumstances of that period. These I have embodied in a story of my personal experiences.

The Author

Bad Grund (Harz) Waldhaus,
Autumn 1926.
CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION ................................................. 7
PREFACE .................................................... 9

CHAPTER
I. At the Outbreak of War on the Black Sea ........ 15
II. Turkey's Neutrality ................................ 20
III. The Political Position of Turkey .............. 30
IV. Decision in Favour of the Central Powers .... 39
V. The First Months of War ......................... 49
VI. Geo-military Description of the Gallipoli Peninsula and the Dardanelles .... 59
VII. Unsuccessful Attempt by the Fleet to Break Through 69
VIII. Preparation by 5th Army on Gallipoli .... 89
IX. The Landing ......................................... 98
X. Over Ariburnu to the Southern Group .......... 121
XI. The Fighting for Krithia ....................... 139
XII. On Kajaltepe ...................................... 182
XIII. Fresh Landings and the Fighting by Anafarta 203
XIV. At Turschunkoi .................................... 228
XV. The Entente Evacuate Gallipoli ............... 245
XVI. Conclusion ......................................... 261

APPENDIX
I. List of Officers Attached to the Military Mission on 2nd August, 1914 ................ 271
II. Distribution of Troops and Commanders of the 5th Army Corps on Gallipoli during the Winter of 1915 ........................................ 277
III. Sources of Information ......................... 279

MAPS
I. General Map 1/1,000,000 .............................. 60
II. Sketch Showing the Distribution of the Turkish Divisions ............................ 126
III. Battle Areas for the Dardanelles and on Gallipoli .......................... At end
LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

(Some of which are taken from an album presented to Marshal Liman von Sanders Pasha by the Turkish 16th Division)

THE MARSHAL, HIS EXCELLENCY LIMAN VON SANDERS PASHA  Frontispiece

TCHANAK KALE BEFORE THE OUTBREAK OF WAR 1914  .  32
THE MARSHAL AND ESSAD PASHA  .  32
THE MARSHAL IN CONVERSATION WITH ENVER PASHA  .  48
A GIANT CYPRUS AT KUMKOI  .  64
A TROOP OF CAVALRY NEAR THE OIL MILLS AT TURSCHUNKOI  .  64
MUSTAPHA KEMAL BEY  .  80
CLAY HUT. THE AUTHOR’S QUARTERS  .  96
CLAY HUTS AT 16TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS  .  96
THE TRENCHES OF INFANTRY REGIMENT 125 (16TH DIVISION)  .  112
THE TRENCHES OF THE 12TH DIVISION  .  128
DJEWAD PASHA  .  128
EDJE LIMAN  .  128
A DUG-OUT AT KANLI SIRT  .  144
BOMBING TRENCH AT KANLI SIRT  .  160
KAPALI TSCHARSCHI  .  160
APPROACH TO THE 16TH DIVISION  .  176
COMMANDER OF INFANTRY REGIMENT 125, WITH STAFF  .  192
OFFICERS OF INFANTRY REGIMENT 48  .  192
THE AUTHOR IN THE VALLEY OF THE IBRIDJE  .  208
GERMAN HOSPITAL AT BIGHALI  .  208

13
LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Illustration</th>
<th>Facing Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>View of Small Kemikli</td>
<td>224</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The English Landing Bridges</td>
<td>224</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Extreme Point of Large Kemikli</td>
<td>224</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Camp abandoned by the English at Small Kemikli</td>
<td>240</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Guns left behind by the English at Arıburnu</td>
<td>240</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Camp of Clay Huts of Infantry Regiment 25</td>
<td>256</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bird’s-eye View of Kiretschtepe (taken from an Aeroplane)</td>
<td>256</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>